LOGAN, HOCKING COUNTY, OHIO, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1906.

The Only Democratic Paper in the County

ANNUAL REUNION.

The annual reunion of Company E. of the 90th O. V. I. was held last Wednesday, September 12, at the residence of John W. Tritsch, President of the Company Association. While the turn-out of members was not as good as expected, enough were present to have a thoroughly good time and enjoy the elaborate preparations made for their reception and entertainment.

The grounds at the Tritsch home were well gotten up for the occasion. A temporary low stage erected at the south end was gaily bedizened in flags and bunting, and a large portrait of S. N. Yeoman, Colonel of the 90th, late of Washington C. H. hung above the middle of the platform. Comfortable chairs were disposed in front, and everything was well decked out in red, white and blue. Cases of mementoes and relics, portraits of commanders and members of Company E. and other reminders of old lang syne hung on the side of the house facing the lawn. A fine and accurate map of the Battle of Chickamauga was special object of interest, and the comrades spent much time following on this map the movements of their own and other regiments on that fateful field. This map was personally verified by Mr. Tritsch, who visited the battlefield in 1896.

One of the prettiest features of the arrangements was a row of small "dog-tents," erected at the back end of the lawn, with campfires, arms, and all complete, Kettles, labelled variously as soup, beans and sow-belly, and other army delicacies, hung over the mimic fires, and the whole had a very real and warlike appearance. An extensive series of drawings, depicting incidents in the army life of Company E. furnished unlimited amusements to those present, occupying conspicuous places about the yard.

The program of the reunion included addresses by Rev. C. R. Wilson and Messrs. E. O. Pettit, H. E. Sparron, and Judge O. W. H. Wright. Comrade Tritsch's address of welcome, which was first on the program, was responded to by Captain Bowers, who later read some reminiscence out of his diary kept in the sixties. Comrade Bowers also, as orderly sergeant, called the company roll out of the original army orderly book, and read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Letters of regret from absent comrades were read by Joe Collins, Secretary of the association. Mrs. Chas. Oaks, one of Logan's most charming readers, favored the company in the afternoon with a beautiful recitation appropriate to the time.

Among the pleasing incidents of the day was the presentation by Comrade Tom Collins, of the 75th O. V. I., to Company E, of three large and luscious watermelons, which were properly attended to by the boys during a recess taken for that purpose.

In a business session held during the afternoon it was decided to hold the reunion next year at the same time and place, and a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Tritsch for their hospitality. The "camp-fire," in the evening was a fitting end to a most enjoyable meeting. Comrade Hy Brown, of Starr, sprang a bran-new song, and the conversation was general, lasting until a late hour.

After the Fair.

The management of the Hocking county fair takes this opportunity to express their appreciation of the hearty support given them by the public in general and each individual who in any way whatever gave them any patronage or support. Handicapped in the early part of the year by lack of means at hand, the county commissioners came bravely to the rescue and made a levy of one tenth of one mill, and, although this sum seemed small, it gave us a beginning and became a nucleus around which we gathered funds sufficient to warrant the holding of a fair. By hard work, patience, perseverance, plenty of talk, advertising, etc., we held a fair which goes down in history as one of the most successful fairs in the annals of Hocking county. All premiums will be paid in full, and if any funds should remain the grounds are to be beautified by the planting of shade trees, the buildings repaired and enlarged to meet the exigencies of the times. The exhibits exceeded by far the expectations of the most sanguine. Every department was represented and all classes except hogs and cattle were full almost to overflowing.

And the people! How they did "turn out." They came from the east and from the west. They came from the north and from the south. They came in wagons. They came on foot. They came every way, and filled the grounds till a neighboring field had to be leased in order to accommodate the teams. It has been said "You can't hold a fair without the people of the town," again it has been said "You can't hold a fair without the people of the country." We had them both. The people from the town stood shoulder to shoulder with the people from the country, and the result was a GREAT FAIR.

Mistakes were made, of course, but the management stands ready to admit every mistake and to make amends in the future. The board feels under special obligations to the merchants and business men of Logan and other towns for the magnificent display of merchandise, machinery, etc., and to the farmers who brought of their products, and to the ladies who so beautifully adorned the art hall with fancy work. Besides those who made entries there were several who loaned the society various articles that assisted largely in making an attractive display. Among them were Mrs. Hyson, Mrs. Dr. Rannels and others.

A slight misunderstanding occurred at the gate on Saturday morning while the treasurer was necessarily absent, and a few children between 12 and 16 years of age were charged 25c admission instead of 15c. The secretary assumes the responsibility for this and any one who paid this overcharge can have his money refunded by calling on him. Let us as citizens of old Hocking buckle on our harness and begin the campaign of another year and if we stand together we can hold a fair each year that will be commensurate with the reputation of Logan as the Queen City of the Hocking Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lappen, and Messrs. Hubert, John and Charles Lappen were in Adelpia over Sunday, attending the funeral of Mrs. Lappen's mother, Mrs. Silas Sively, who died at her home near that place, Thursday night, at the age of seventy-five. Funeral services were held in Zion Church, near Adelpia.

Mr. John Ucker chaffured a party of Logan boys to the reservoir and back, Sunday. The party consisted of Messrs. George Smith, Henry Hartman, Joe Krishbaum and Harry Radebaugh.

Mrs. J. T. Sanderson entertained with an informal musical, last Friday evening, in honor of her son, Herbert Sanderson, and wife, of Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kirchner, of Marion, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Snider, Sunday. They are parents of Mrs. Snider.

Mrs. C. F. Apila has invitations out for a card party Thursday evening, September 27.

Mrs. E. G. Spoehr returned home Saturday night from a visit with relatives in Detroit.

COMMON PLEAS COURT

The fall term of court began here Monday morning, with Judge Martin on the bench, and a good docket ahead. Four of the original panel of the grand jury were absent, and Messrs. G. W. Krinn, Samuel Highley, Henry Conkle and W. D. Mauk were called as talesmen. Joseph Collins, of Logan, was appointed Foreman by the Court, and after Clerk Soliday had administered to them the oath of duty and the Court had given them proper instruction, they immediately retired to their deliberations.

The time was taken up in court until Tuesday noon with preliminary business, such as the hearing of motions, assignments, etc. Out of the batch of divorce cases on the docket, Marie Christian was granted a decree of divorce from Lanzo Christian, with restoration of maiden name, Marie Johnson, and alimony of $100; the divorce suits of William Snyder vs. Jennie Snyder, and Lyda M. Snow vs. Jacob F. Snow, were settled.

In the case of Barbara C. Engle vs. J. F. Engle et al, for partition an order of partition was made by the Court Monday, and Charles Wright, Jacob Mathias, and Lemuel Stivison named as commissioners.

Cases settled and dismissed were Reed Mfg. Co. vs. Harbaugh et al; Sarah Vickroy vs. John Price, $1000 damages; George M. Walton vs. Sylvester Davis, for possession of real estate.

The three damage suits of Geo. Bond, Administrator of Oscar Bond against The Logan Natural Gas & Fuel Company, were dismissed by the court for want of prosecution, at the plaintiff cost. The same action was taken in the damage suit of John W. McBroom vs. the same defendant, and for the same reason.

The court took a recess Tuesday until tomorrow, when the grand jury will probably report. They are having a busy session, with a record number of witnesses. The petit jury is called for Monday, October 1.

Wellman, Steinman & Yontz

Mr. John Parker the veteran cattle man, of Lancaster, widely known throughout the country, died in the Protestant Hospital, in Columbus, Saturday, and was buried in Lancaster, Tuesday. Mr. Parker was sixty-five years old, and was a cousin of Mr. Amos Parker.

Miss Lila Lemon, of Lancaster, is spending this week with her relatives here.

A story told in a beautiful way, with a novel plot and theme, sentiments pure and sweet, and the human emotions and mistakes faithfully depicted, makes "The Village Parson" a play one thoroughly enjoys, at the Opera House Thursday Sept. 27.

The latest reports from Mr. Irving Krieg, who has been very seriously ill of typhoid, in Charleston, are that he is much better.

Married by Rev. J. F. Williams at his residence in Logan, O., on September 16, Mr. John McLaughlin and Miss Carrie Price, both of Logan.

As sweet as the fragrance of roses and pure in sentiment such will be "The Village Parson" at the Opera House Thursday evening Sept. 27.

Chester A. Snider, of Zanesville is visiting Vernon Goodwin.
